

The strawberry

The little girl draws a strawberry and eats it.
She feels happy and smiles.

Will she get something to eat when mom
wake up? Will mother wake up?

In the schoolyard, the girl eats snow. A teacher intervenes:

- Can't you see the snow is dirty?

The little girl's big brother approaches. He hands her a piece of chocolate and rushes away.

Three days later, the shopkeeper catches the big brother in the act of stealing. In the schoolyard, the little girl watches her big brother being picked up by the police.

- There's only problems with these kids! The boy's teacher tells the policemen.

This happened last year. Now, the big brother only exists in the little girl's dreams.

Environment from high density-housing in Nuuk, October 2004.
(The text has no real relation to the photography).